

1 The PLATO guidance is good and deals with the most common crimes against places of worship. It deals with perimeter and grounds, the interior and exterior of buildings, new buildings and general good practice. Reference is also made to fire precautions and insurance. Also, there is a booklet entitled 'A Guide to Management at Places of Worship'. It is produced by the Greater Manchester Police and is recommended by the Ecumenical Officer for GMCTO. The Congregational and General Insurance Company also produce a booklet entitled, 'safer places of worship'. Churches that carry cover from the Company should have the document.
